About Bluewater

At Bluewater, we believe that as a leader you are either creating learned excellence or learned helplessness. Your talent is your choice. We work with leaders who feel morally obligated to do right by their people. We give people-centric leaders access to the Bluewater Way™, a set of unique offerings that covers all aspects of professional development including training and leadership development programs, executive coaching, job benchmarking, selection and succession planning. When we partner with these leaders, we reinforce the idea that success is the outcome of how you treat the people around you.

Mark Debinski
Founder & President
Bluewater Search & Advisory

Mark Debinski founded one of the country's preeminent talent management firms in 2010, wrote an authoritative book, and became a recognized thought leader in Talent Management. Debinski makes leaders and companies tangibly stronger by showing them how to balance the head with the heart.
